THIS MISSION BELL ISsue that rang out recently in this column plus the pictures and the news story is gathering some momentum, we are happy to report.

Vice-Mayor Bill Podgorsek brought it into the official city limelight at a recent City Council meeting. He suggested that the city staff check into the matter and see what could be done about the situation.

For the benefit of those who tuned in late, it was suggested that the historic mission bell that has been located on Winchester in Campbell since 1912 and, at its present location at Winchester and Campbell avenues since 1940, should be moved to a location where it can be seen.

It is virtually hidden by the limbs of a tree on what has been the temporary campus of West Valley College for the past eight years.

When the mission bell was placed there in 1940 it was the Campbell Grammar School property.

QUITE A FEW PEOPLE have told us that they did not know of the bell's existence, which is not surprising considering the fact that it can't be seen where it is now located.

Others wondered how come the bell was in Campbell in the first place, inasmuch as they thought those markers were only supposed to go on El Camino Real.

The mission bell was placed on Winchester to mark the route traveled by the padres over the Santa Cruz mountains between the Santa Clara and Santa Cruz missions.

About 10 years ago when the request was made by the El Camino Real committee that the bell be removed from Campbell onto El Camino Real, it was determined then that its location in Campbell had a historical significance.

So the bell stayed.

OUR RESEARCH REvealed that it was originally purchased by a local church group in 1912.

Our point is that it seems silly to have such a marker, if it can't be seen.

With very little effort, either in time or money, the bell could be moved down the street to either the city's minipark at Winchester on Alice, or in front of St. Lucy's.

Either location would seem to be more suitable than where it is now.

At least people could see it.

Of course, strangers might think when they saw the bell that they had made a wrong turn and were on El Camino Real.

But that is not too likely.

IN THE INTEREST OF further research on the bell, Carl Winther brought us an excerpt from the California Mission Trails Visitors Guide, published by the California Mission Trails Association. There are about 104 bells existing today along El Camino Real. Some of them are the old originals and the rest replicas purchased through private donations.

Under the heading, "The Story of the El Camino Bells," some pertinent background information was revealed:

"Between San Diego and San Francisco along U.S. Highway 101, the Mission Bells stand at approximately 10-mile intervals.

"The history of the bells goes back to the year 1906, when a public-spirited couple, Mr. and Mrs. A.S.C. Forbes, conceived the idea of marking El Camino Real (The King's Highway) with replicas of the old mission bells."

The report added that the bells gradually disappeared through vandalism, re-routing

IN NEXT TUESDAY'S CITY ELECTION

Four vie for three Council positions

Approximately 2000 voters are expected to go to the polls next Tuesday, April 11, in the Campbell municipal election when four candidates are on the ballot for three City Council seats that are open.

In addition the voters will be asked to decide whether the position of city treasurer should be appointive rather than elective.

Polls will be open in the 14 precincts within the city from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. and there are 8,881 voters registered for the election, according to City Clerk Dorothy Trevethan. Based on previous elections, the clerk's office estimates that only about 23% of the voters will exercise their franchise next Tuesday.

TWO INCUMBENTS

Two incumbents, Bill Smeed, 42, and Dean Chamberlin, 56, are seeking reelection. Dr. Edward J. Rogers, who was elected to the City Council in 1960, and was reelected in 1964 and 1968, is not seeking reelection. He is stepping down after serving longer in office (12 years) than any other councilman in this city's history.

Norm Paul, 50, a member of the Planning Commission, past president of the Chamber of Commerce and who was named "citizen-of-the-year" for 1971, and Rusty Hammer, 18, a member of the Youth Commission and a freshman at Santa Clara University, are also seeking election to the City Council.

Smeed is seeking his third term on the City Council, having been elected for the first time in 1964 after four years of prior service on the Planning Commission of which he was chairman when elected to the Council.

Smeed is an attorney and almost a lifelong resident of Campbell where he attended Campbell schools. He is a graduate of Santa Clara University.

Chamberlin was elected to his first term on the City Council in 1968. At the time of his election he was also a member of the Planning Commission. He is a high school administrator and has been a resident of Campbell for the past 32 years.

Paul, who attended Illinois State University, has been a resident of Campbell since 1955 and is co-owner of the Plaza Theaters.

Hammer, a 1971 graduate of Del Mar High School, and now attending Santa Clara University, has been active in the Youth Advisory Commission since its inception, serving as its first chairman. He also has taken an active part in community projects.

STATEMENTS

In their statements of qualifications that were distributed with the sample ballots, Smeed emphasized that his long residence in Campbell and his service on the Planning Commission and City Council has made him aware of the problems of the community.

He submits that as a practicing attorney and his background in city administration has given him a better understanding of the needs of the community.

He also adds that during his city service, he has seen the City of Campbell "grow up" and become the progressive city it is today.

Chamberlin points to the rapid progress the city has made during the past four years in which the new city hall and fire station were built and many major street improvement projects completed, plus the beginning of a park system.

He maintains also that he always insisted that every dollar spent must return at least a dollar's benefit to the city, pointing out that the municipal tax rate was decreased this year.

Paul, who has been active in school affairs as well as other civic projects, was a member of the citizens' committee that was instrumental in the passage of the civic improvement bond measures in 1967.

Paul maintains that the people of Campbell have displayed an attitude of self-determination in city government during recent years to assure themselves of planning, programs, services and facilities that are responsive to their voice.

Because of his exposure to the community's thrust and goals, he feels he can offer the leadership that is desired in a city councilman.

Hammer emphasizes that there is a need to look at new phases in community developments and that, specifically, the community needs to concentrate on recreation, juvenile delinquency, zoning and city services.

He feels convinced that he can bring new and fresh ideas to the city government and that his experience on the Youth Commission and in other city positions will enable him to work effectively in these areas.

FIRE CHIEF --- COUNCILMAN

Dinners to honor two retiring officials

Fire Chief George Maxwell and Councilman Ed Rogers, two long-time City of Campbell officials with a record of 26 years of city service between them, are to be honored at two separate civic dinners marking their respective "retirements." One will be this Friday, April 7, and the other the following Friday, April 14.

Fire Chief Maxwell, who became Campbell's first full-time chief in 1958, is retiring as head of the local department effective April 15. On May 1, he assumes the position as Director of Public Safety for the Greater Anchorage Area Borough in Alaska.

Chief Maxwell will be the honored guest this Friday, April 7, at the Los Gatos Elks Lodge (Winchester at Lark) when his fellow citizens and associates in the firefighting profession will pay their respects for his dedicated service.

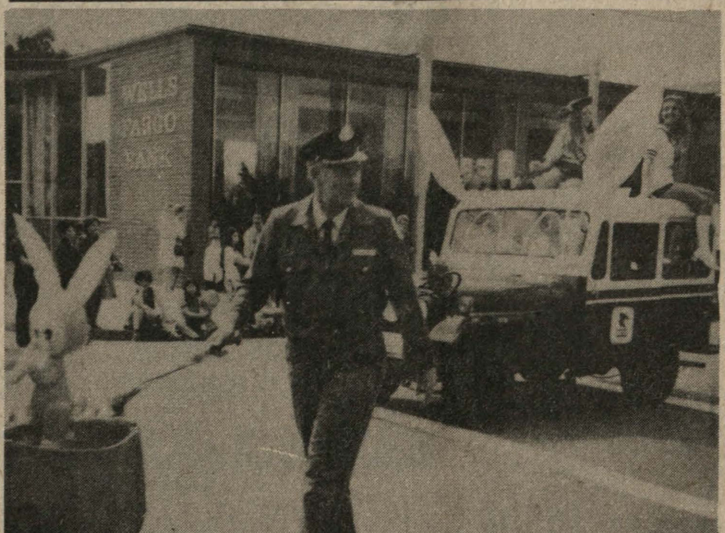
Vice-Mayor Bill Podgorsek will be master-of-ceremonies for the affair which is limited to 200 persons. Tickets at $10 per person are available at the Campbell Fire Department (378-8146). Checks should be made payable to "Maxwell Retirement Dinner."

Social hour, labeled "altitude adjustment," will begin at 6 p.m. and the New York steak dinner will be served at 8 p.m.

Dr. Edward J. Rogers, who was elected to the City Council in 1960 (just two years after Maxwell became chief), and was reelected in 1964 and again in 1968, will be honored on Friday, April 14, at Zorba's (1350 S. Bascom). Rogers, whose term of office expires this month after 12 years on the Council, is not running for reelection.

Social hour for the Rogers' dinner will be at 7 p.m. and dinner will be served at 8 p.m.

Mrs. Jeanette Watson will be MC of the event. Those planning to attend the affair have been asked to notify the city manager's office (378-8141) by April 11.



ONE OF THE WINNERS--- Campbell post office's entry in the first annual Easter Parade on April 1 was awarded the trophy for the "best individual vehicle." One of the mobile mail carts was dressed up with bunny ears and was escorted by two mail carriers, Bill Bissett (pictured) and John Dietz, pushing their carts. On the float were Linda Perez, Jill Johnson and Betty Cayton, postal employees. Driver was Chris Maciel. Other parade pictures appear on page 16 and list of winners on page 2.

NEXT MONDAY NIGHT

New city commission to get final approval

City Ordinance No. 841 is scheduled to be officially adopted by the City Council next Monday, April 10, establishing a new advisory body for the city, the Civic Improvement Commission.

At the last meeting, the City Council gave first reading to the ordinance which established a seven-member commission to be appointed by the Council.

The new city advisory body, according to the ordinance, will delve into areas of cultural needs, health and welfare services, beautification, environment, library needs, historical needs and problems of youth and senior citizens.

The objective of the commission will be to identify community needs and problems and to provide channels for their expression and to promote community interaction in all phases.

Mrs. Jeanette Watson, long active in community affairs and head of the Citizens for Beautification, was one of the leaders in the move to establish the commission. When the new advisory group comes into existence, the beautification committee will go out of existence. The beautification committee has been an unofficial body, while the new commission will have an official status similar to the Youth Commission, the Parks and Recreation Commission and the Planning Commission.

The original draft of the ordinance specified that there would be ex-officio members from the three other city commissions but the City Council deleted that section at the first reading.

At the Council meeting next Monday, Myron Alexander, president of the Rotary Club, will give a report on the delivery of one of Campbell's old fire engines to Madero, Mexico.

Initial steps in the formation of Local Improvement District No. 22 are scheduled for Council action next Monday. The area involved in the improvement district extends from Bucknam to Campbell Ave. on Virginia. Under the city's policy, these residential street improvement districts are financed jointly by the residents in the area and the city, with the city picking up two-thirds of the tab.

La Pradera residents object to driveways of restaurant

Plans for a second "Herfy's" restaurant in Campbell (at 1651 W. Campbell Ave.) ran into opposition from residents in the area at the Planning Commission meeting Monday night because the plans called for entry or exit onto La Pradera, a residential street.

Mainly because of the objections voiced at the meeting, the Commission deferred action on the plans for two weeks to see if the methods for ingress and egress could be improved.

But before the Commission voted to continue, a motion by Commissioner Bob Stewart to prohibit any access to La-Pradera was voted down by a 4-3 vote.

Voting with Stewart were Commissioners Carl Larson and Don Hebard, with Chairman Dale Scott and Commissioners Oleg Lubeckis, Norm Paul and Myron Alexander on the other side.

During the discussion period, four residents of the area adjacent to the proposed restaurant voiced objections to having La Pradera used by vehicle traffic from the eating place.

Philip Chew, 1661 La Pradera; Robert Riggins, 84 Rio Sereno and John Ferguson, 1591 La Pradera, took the mike to call attention to the safety hazards involved in put-

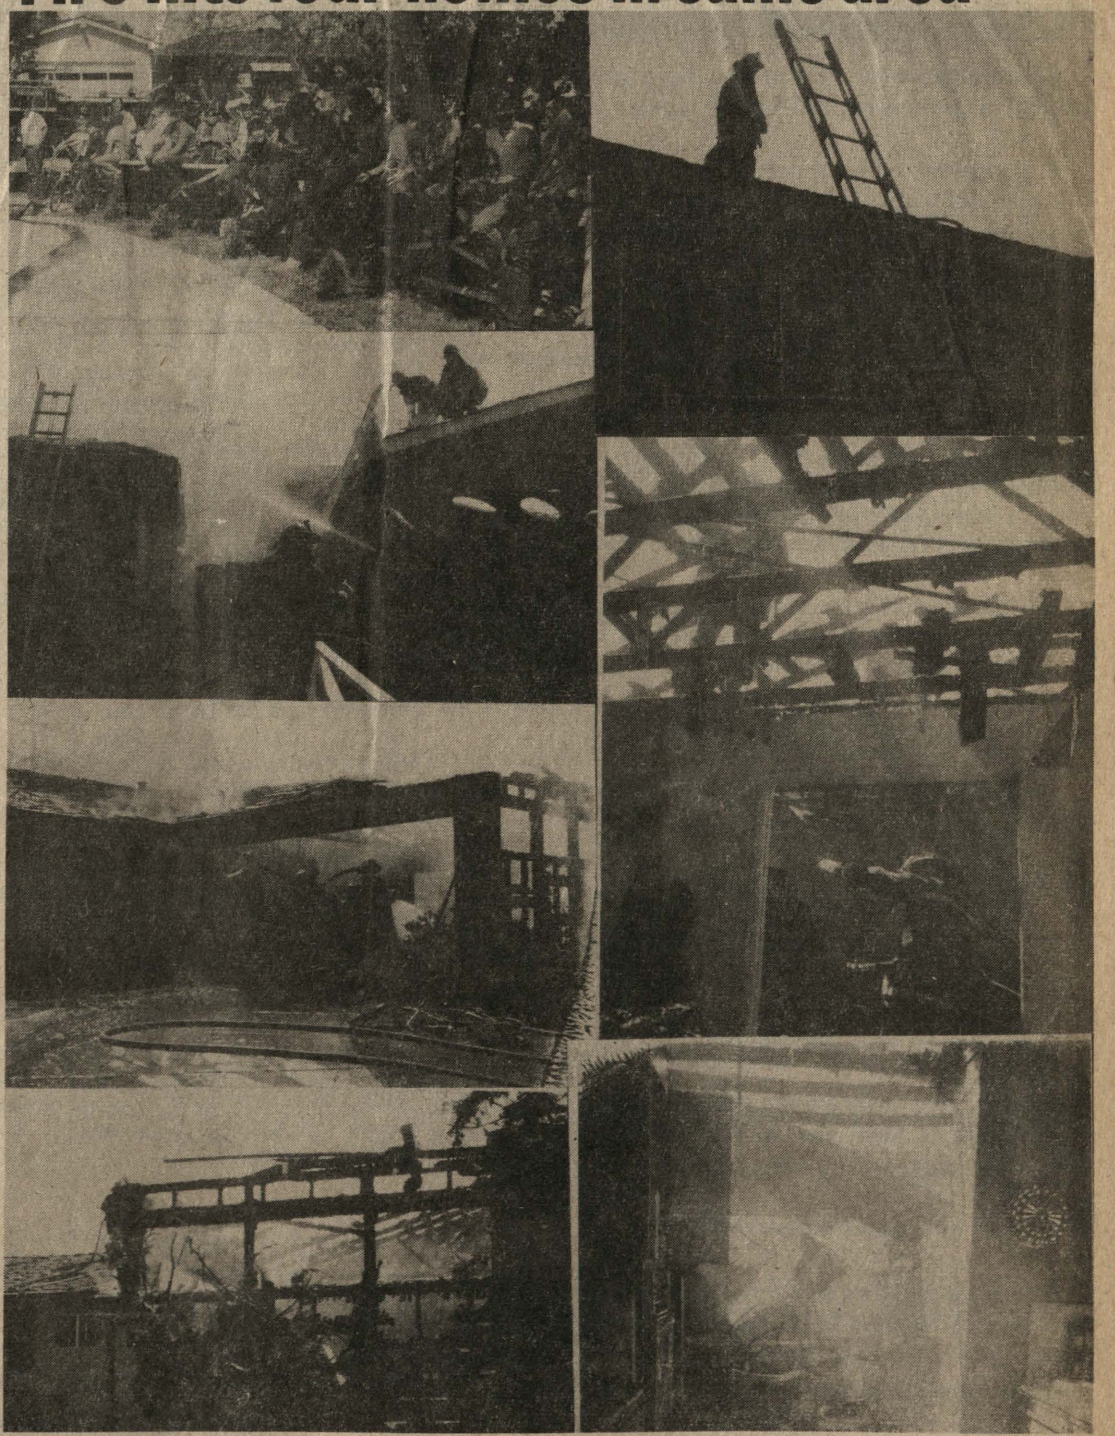
Fire hits four homes in same area



SPREADING FIRE--A fire that apparently started in the garage of the Gary Davis residence at 1200 Nadine shortly after noon last Thursday virtually destroyed the Davis home and also did damage to three other houses in the neighborhood. (Pictures above.)

Fire department officials estimated that the fire did about $25,000 damage to the Davis home and another $5,000 to the three other residences of Allen Clark, 1210 Nadine, Mrs. Leonora Wood, 1195 Colleen Way and Roland Lyons, Jr., 1203 Colleen Way, that were involved.

The damage to the three houses was limited to the roofs and attics and were caused by sparks flying from the original fire.

The fire department officials report that Carol, 14-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Davis, was alone at home when the fire broke out in the garage. They attributed the unseasonable dryness as one of the reasons for the structure to burn so rapidly. Although the house was gutted to a great extent, the bedrooms remained in fair condition except for smoke damage.

Two units from the Campbell department answered the alarm and were assisted by a pumper and fire company from San Jose under the mutual aid pact that is in existence between the two cities.

The homes are located near Coventry School and because of Easter vacation, hundreds of youngsters (pictured above) were interested spectators of the conflagration.

Editorial

The Press endorses ---

For City Council

SMEED PAUL CHAMBERLIN

In the Campbell City Council election next Tuesday, April 11, The Campbell Press recommends the reelection of incumbents, Bill Smeed and Dean Chamberlin, and the election of Norm Paul. There are three council seats open.

We feel that, by their records, the two incumbents, Smeed and Chamberlin, have shown that they are sincere individuals, dedicated to the best interests of their community and have the integrity that is so all-important in an elective official.

We sincerely believe that Norm Paul, although he has never held an elective position in this town, has also a record of civic achievement that has earned him the confidence of his fellow citizens and that he is deserving of being named to the City Council by the voters of this city.

Bill Smeed, 42, an attorney and graduate of Santa Clara University, has lived almost his entire life in the Campbell area and is well acquainted with the problems of the community.

He has served for two terms on the City Council, having been elected for the first time in 1964 after four years of prior service on the Planning Commission of which he was chairman for one year.

Smeed has served for one term as mayor of Campbell and during his tenure as a councilman and mayor he has demonstrated his ability to remove the underbrush from an issue and to get at the heart of it.

This ability on his part to do that has proved invaluable on many occasions and the city is better off because of it.

Because of his record in office, we sincerely believe that Bill Smeed is deserving of reelection.

Dean Chamberlin, 55, a graduate of Chico State and California, has been associated with the Campbell Union High School District as a teacher and educator for many years.

He was elected to the City Council for the first time in 1968. Prior to his election he was a member of the Planning Commission. He has served one term as mayor during his four years on the Council.

Chamberlin also, therefore, has a record as a city official to be scrutinized by the voters.

It is because of his record of integrity, sincerity and outright dedication to the best interests of his community, that we also urge his reelection on April 11.

As we pointed out, Norm Paul has no record as an elective city official to point to but his record of civic activity is one of which we can point to with pride.

Paul is presently a member of the Planning Commission and he was an active member of the citizen groups that worked so vigorously for the passage of the civic improvement bonds in 1967 and 1969 that made Campbell a city in fact as well as in theory.

Paul has served as president of the Campbell Chamber of Commerce but more important he was named Campbell "citizen-of-the-year" for 1971 and received recognition in the state legislature for his civic activities in the community of Campbell.

So Paul also has a "record" that, in our opinion, qualifies him for a seat on the City Council.

We urge his election next Tuesday, April 11.

In this editorial, we have made quite a point of "records".

And that to us is important.

These three men we are recommending for election next Tuesday have proven to us that by their records they deserve your support.

But let one point be perfectly clear.

When we say that Bill Smeed, Dean Chamberlin and Norm Paul deserve your support, this does not necessarily mean that we have agreed with ALL their actions in civic affairs.

Or their votes on city matters.

But we sincerely believe that the three; Bill, Dean and Norm, have demonstrated time and time again that they are sincere in whatever actions they take, even if those actions may be diametrically opposed to our own thinking.

And that is what we consider a fair shake.

The City of Campbell will be in good hands with Bill Smeed, Dean Chamberlin and Norm Paul as councilmen.

We urge you to cast your votes for the three next Tuesday.

of the highways and the lack of responsibility as to their maintenance.

Then in 1959, under the direction of the Califoria Mission Trails Association, a committee was formed for El Camino Real and state legislation was passed officially designating U.S. Highway 101 between San Diego and San Francisco as El Camino Real. The legislation required the state to install and maintain such El Camino bells as might be available.

Apparently when the committee learned about Campbell's "orphan" bell, they asked that the school district allow it to be moved onto Highway 101.

But the request was denied because it was determined that it was a historical landmark at its present location.

After all, historical markers of any description are mighty rare in Campbell.

So it seems a shame to hide even one of 'em.

AS IS OUR CUSTOM IN local elections, in the issue just prior to the voting, The Press makes its endorsement of candidates.

In next Tuesday's election, there are four candidates for the three seats that are open on the City Council.

Two incumbents, Bill Smeed and Dean Chamberlin, are seeking reelection. Dr. Edward J. Rogers, a councilman for the past 12 years, is not running.

We feel that Bill Smeed and Dean Chamberlin have served the city well during their years on the council, Bill for eight years and Dean for four. We recommend that they be reelected.

We recommend the election of Norm Paul for the third position. Paul has worked tirelessly for his community, serving on the Planning Commission and as president of the Chamber of Commerce.

He was named "citizen-of-the-year" for Campbell in 1971 which indicates the esteem in which he is held by his fellow citizens.

We sincerely believe that Bill Smeed, Dean Chamberlin and Norm Paul have proved by their records of sincere civic service of their faith and belief in this community.

In our opinion, they deserve your vote.

AFTER 14 YEARS OF untiring and dedicated service to this community, Fire Chief George Maxwell is "retiring".

But, in case some of you might get the impression that George's "retirement" means that he will be devoting all his time to hunting or fishing or loafing, forget it.

He has accepted the position of Director of Public Safety for the Greater Anchorage Area Borough in Alaska and will take up his new duties on May 1. His last day as Campbell fire chief will be April 14.

It has been our privilege to have known George and Dorothy Maxwell from almost the very first day of their arrival in Campbell in 1958.

They are both great people.

We are personally going to miss them both.

And so will the community as a whole.

George Maxwell has done a tremendous job in fire service activity in this community, building the department from the three-man force in 1958 to the efficient, well-equipped level it is today.

The community owes a great deal to Fire Chief Maxwell, for he is a dedicated professional firefighter of the highest order.

Campbell has indeed been fortunate in having Maxwell as its fire chief for the past 14 years.

We are sorry to see him go.

But we also recognize that the Anchorage position presents a challenge to him and, of course, we wish him well in his new assignment in the far north.

And, as a little personal aside, to Dorothy and George from Dorothy and George, go some extra special good wishes.

AND ON ANOTHER FIRE note, we were on hand with our camera last Thursday when a house burned on Nadine Avenue in Campbell.

As always, it was sad to see a house go up in flames.

Throughout the years we have probably seen hundreds of homes destroyed by fire. And we always get a sinking feeling in the pit of our stomach as we watch the flames and smoke even when trying to shoot a picture.

We toured the interior of the house with Fire Marshal Gene Borden (who, by the way, will become acting fire chief on April 15 when Chief Maxwell retires).

The interior was in shambles. The roof of most of the house was burned away and sunlight was pouring in.

Then the phone rang in one of the back rooms. It was sort of eerie and incongruous.

The only people around were firemen and your editor.

It rang incessantly.

But no one answered the phone.

Just what could one say to any caller at that time?

ting more traffic on a residential street.

Because it was also maintained by others that entering and exiting from heavily traveled Campbell Avenue also presented a problem, the continuance was voted.

Two other matters before the Commission were also continued because of objections expressed by residents.

The public hearing on the prezoning of a proposed annexation that would bring parcels on Union Ave., Duncanville Court and East Campbell Avenue into the city was deferred for two weeks.

Mrs. Merrill Grim told the Commission that her mother, Mrs. Sophie B. Miranda, owner of property at 690 E. Campbell, had only been informed of the zoning and annexation on the weekend. She said that they were not protesting the action but felt that more time was needed to study it.

The other deferrment came in the case of the application of Oliver Nelson, who was seeking approval to construct a warehouse at 520 McGlincey Lane.

In 1969, the Planning Commission had approved plans identical to the ones before the Commission. However, the property backs up to a residential area and residents were objecting to the development without a proper buffer.

Robert Francis, 701 Parkdale, told the Commission that he felt a landscape buffer was essential. A letter from Paul M. Barber also objecting to the proposed plans had been submitted.

The Planning Commission also took considerable time before making a recommendation on the parcel map that had been submitted by California Savings and Loan, now building a new office at Bascom and Campbell. The firm also owns parcels adjacent to it.

Complicating the proceedings is that a lot next to the firm's office is now zoned commercial but is in residential use. The Commission recommended that two of the firm's parcels be combined and that steps be taken to rezone the lot now in residential use back to residential zoning.

The commissioners emphasized that they frowned on any commercial development fronting on any of the side streets.

After considerable discussion, the Commission granted the request of George Chew for a cutting yard at 524 Forman Ave. after being satisfied that there would be control of the noise in the operation.

The Commission denied the request of Garland Spears to sell travel trailers at 175 Curtner because it was not a proper use for the zoning in effect. The Commission indicated, however, that further study should be made to see what could be worked out.

Joseph Prestigiacomo was granted approval for a variance to construct a duplex at 215 W. Hamilton and approval was also given John Font to convert an existing residence at 106 E. Campbell Ave. into an office.

Approval was also given Harvey Green for plans for a service building at 2605 Winchester and to Ben Morrone for a three-unit apartment at 1535 Van Dusen Lane.

Letters to the Editor

THANK YOU NOTE

Dear Mr. Vierhus:

On Sunday, March 12, 1972, the Santa Clara County Chapter of the March of Dimes had its first Walk-A-Thon. The participation of over 10,000 walkers and pledges of well over $100,000 made it an overwhelming success. Without the backing of your newspaper, it would have been impossible.

The support of the local media is vital to the success of such a community-oriented endeavor. With the great coverage by the Campbell Press, the community and the March of Dimes became keenly aware of the public service nature of your newspaper.

Thanks once again. We hope that we can count on your continued support in future activities.

Many need to register for June 6 vote, official warns

It's registration time for approximately 50,000 to 60,000 county voters. County Registrar of voters George Mann estimates that number of people will have to register by April 13 if they want to participate in the primary election June 6.

Voters who either did not vote in the 1970 election, or have moved since they last voted must re-register. In addition the many thousands of recently enfranchised 18 to 20-year-olds must register by the deadline.

Mann estimated that as many as 500,000 county residents are qualified to vote, but he predicts that the voting rolls will rise from 420,000 to no more than 480,000.

As many as 3,000 deputy registrars will be signing up voters for the primary election. The number is an all-time high. It represents, according to Mann, an increase in political activity on the part of county residents.

While many of the Deputy Registrars are members of political troups, others are simply trying to bring the new voters into the political process, according to Mann.

County residents who voted in the last election but have moved to a new address in the county will find it very easy to re-register. These voters can use a postcard change of address form, which is available in most Post Offices. This form is only valid for change of address and must be postmarked no later than April 13. To change his name or political party, a voter must re-register.

The recent Supreme Court decision ruling Tennessee residency requirements unlawful also strikes down California's 90 day State and County residency requirements. Now anyone eighteen years old, who has been a U.S. citizen for 90 days and is a bonafide resident of the county may register. Persons who will meet these qualifications by June 6 may register anytime prior to the April 13 deadline.

Registration or re-registration may be done at any firehouse. Deputy Registrars often set up tables at public places to make registration easier.

GROUNDBREAKING -- Formal groundbreaking ceremonies for the new Seventh-day Adventist church were held Sunday morning, March 19. Mayor Ralph Doetsch, Sr., (third from right), of the City of Campbell, turned the first shovelful of ground.

Construction began this week on Phase I of the new facility at Campbell Avenue and San Tomas Expressway. The youth chapel, classrooms, and restrooms are included in the immediate construction plans. The main sanctuary, fronting on Campbell Avenue, is expected to be erected in about three years.

The church has chosen to be its own contractor, with Richard Hensel serving as superintendent of construction. Much donated labor from the congregation will go into the building. The total project is expected to cost in excess of $250,000.

A CAPPELLA CHOIR--The Chico State A Cappella Choir will appear in concert at the First United Methodist Church of Campbell, 1675 Winchester Blvd., April 9 at 7:30 p.m. The young musicians will also perform at both of the church's morning services, 9 and 10:30 a.m. The public is invited.

Missing Monday deadline means penalty

The deadline for paying the second installment of property taxes is Monday, April 10, and there will be a penalty on any payment received in the County Tax Collector's Office after that date.

Edward N. Glaeser, the County finance director, warns that last year taxpayers who did not heed the warnings on the tax deadline found themselves paying a total of $650,000 in penalties.

The decision as to whether or not a payment is delinquent is based upon the postmark on the envelope in which the payment was sent, Glaeser said.

Taxpayers are urged to be sure that their payment envelopes are deposited in the mail in sufficient time to secure a postmark prior to Monday, April 10. Dropping the payment in a corner mailbox at the last minute does not necessarily assure the taxpayer of a postmark prior to the delinquency date.

Any payment postmarked after April 10, will necessitate the addition of a 6% penalty and $3.00 per parcel costs, Glaeser explained.

A list of all property upon which taxes are not paid by the April 10 deadline will, according to law, be published in local community newspapers. Property taxes remaining unpaid on June 30 will be reported delinquent to the State as of that date and additional penalties will accrue.

The Tax Collector's office under L. E. Engeman, Assistant Finance Director, advises that failure to receive a tax bill does not relieve the property owner of the payment of penalty if the taxes become delinquent.

If you need a tax bill, you can obtain one at the Tax Office, Room 107, County Administration Building, 70 W. Hedding St., San Jose. Remember the second installment stub is attached to your tax bill. Tear off the remaining stub and mail with your payment. Your cancelled check is your best receipt.

NEW JUDGE--Edward A. Panelli, West Valley College trustee, poses with his wife, Lorna, after being sworn in recently as one of three of Governor Reagan's appointments to the Superior Court. Panelli's resignation from the college board was accepted "with deep regret" Thursday night during a governing board meeting. A charter member of the board, fellow trustees noted that he would be greatly missed, but wished him well in his new post.

RE-ELECT DEAN CHAMBERLIN COUNCILMAN

THE CAMPAIGN IS ALMOST OVER!

--NEXT TUESDAY, APRIL 11, IS ELECTION DAY--

Probably
both the promises and the accusations will get larger as the time gets shorter.

But
as an incumbent Councilman, I prefer to discuss the record and realistic plans for the future. Not everything has turned out perfectly, but I believe that the City of Campbell has had good government and has made substantial progress since 1968.

SPECIFICALLY

DURING THE LAST FOUR YEARS OUR CITY HAS:

IMPROVED almost all of its city streets.
COMPLETED our new City Hall, Fire Station, and Corporation Yard.
MAINTAINED high standards in all city services.
SEEN hundreds of people participate in civic improvement projects.
DEVELOPED a stronger tax base through increased commercial and industrial construction.
As a Councilman, I have had a share in this record.

DURING THE NEXT FOUR YEARS WE CAN:

COMPLETE the Library, Rincon Park, and the Neighborhood Parks.
MODERNIZE downtown Campbell, and improve its traffic flow.
INVOLVE an even greater proportion of our people in planning and improving our city's future.
MAKE Campbell an even better place to live and to work.
As a Councilman, I sincerely believe these goals are possible.

BUT

New facilities and more services must be balanced against their cost. This is where my long experience in school and city administration can be useful.

As we face our city's future there is still much to be done--many problems to be solved. I'd like to help with the job.

THIS IS AN EDICT! ! "TEACHER MAY I"

THIS IS AN EDICT!!!, are the words that headed a sheet of paper which in simple terms means, this is a decree or proclamation issued by an authority.

This slip of paper which was somewhat circulated through the school last week was the result of the crack down on all passes needed to go to and from different places.

Due to many contributing factors, the administration, the deans, and counselors are calling upon the classroom teacher to re-establish and enforce school regulations and rules.

Some of the contributing factors are that some students do not go to their classes on time, the students are leaving too frequently and are often not going to the place that they told the teacher that they were going to. Also some teachers do not check the time that the students are gone from the classroom.

Another big contributor to the crack down is the good weather that we are having nowadays. It seems that everyone or a lot of students want to be outside instead of being cooped up inside of their classroom sitting in their "Comfortable" seats.

The decree which was issued stated such things as letting the students know the bells are ringing again and that they have been for some time.

Another thing that the forgetful students can't seem to remember is to do their work, once they do get inside the classroom. They do not seem to make sure to bring their book, pen or pencil and some paper to class each day.

It used to be that if the teacher was finished teaching his pupils, and there was anywhere from a few minutes to thirty seconds left the teacher would dismiss the class so that they might get back under the sun's light and finish sitting on the lawn getting their sun tan or whatever they do. No more!.

BELL RINGING

There are two things that were stated that signify the ending of class. The verbal dismissal by the teacher and the ringing of the bell; there goes that bell again.

It was noted, if the students are allowed to leave early even thirty seconds earlier, that they disturb and disrupt the other classes and students that are sticking it out to the very end. These students are saying to themselves, for example, "look at those guys they get out early and I have to finish listening to this lecture." The other problem with letting the students out early is where to draw the line. Just how early should the students get out?

So remember students do not ask to go even a little earlier, and heaven forbid do not ask to go out and sit on the lawn because the answer will be "No"!

SIXTY-FIVE GO IN FOURTEEN COME OUT!

Workshops are back again. Yes, it's that time of year again when all the girls are getting ready for the up-coming elections for Song girls, Varsity and Frosh-Soph cheerleaders.

The workshops started March 20 and will continue until April 17. There are approximately 65 girls involved in this activity. Out of these 65, 14 girls will end up in one of the three groups.

In the workshops there are three subdivisions, Varsity and Frosh-Soph cheerleaders and Song girls.

First of all the girls that are trying out for cheerleaders learn different cheers and leg and arm movements, which the girls combine with the words for the complete routine or cheer.

The Varsity and Frosh-Soph cheerleaders then do this cheer in front of a panel, April 10, which consists of 17 student council members, 12 other class officers like secretary, treasurer, etc., about 30 council representatives and some spirit commission girls.

Out of all the girls that go into these preliminary tryouts, 10 Varsity and 6 Frosh-Soph will continue into the final election.

This final cheerleader election is held before the school where the girls once again do their cheer. Then there is an all school election, April 17, where five Varsity are chosen from the previous 10 to be next year's Varsity cheerleaders.

Also three Frosh-Soph cheerleaders are elected from the previous six girls to be next year's Frosh-Soph cheerleaders.

Next come the song girls who practice up on different parts of routines and also study arm and leg movements or a so-called shuffle step that is taught to the girls.

From this an estimated 30 girls go into the preliminaries April 12 and perform both singly and in groups of six girls each. This is done in front of a judging panel of about six college girls and possibly some college cheerleaders. From these 30 girls 12 are chosen to go on to the finals April 19.

In the finals the girls once again perform their routine before a panel of 12 class officers and the student council. Out of these 12 girls a final six are chosen to be next year's Song Girls.

So out of the once 65 girls, five Varsity cheerleaders, three Frosh-Soph cheerleaders and six Song emerge to become of the girls who will be heading up next year's rooting section.

Bohnett plans new "Scatterday"

"Scatterday" is like the eighth day of the week at Joseph Bohnett Elementary School in the Cambrian School District. It will come again this Friday, April 7.

When Scatterday arrives, children scurry from their regular classrooms to new classrooms, new teachers and new kinds of learning experiences. Each classroom is filled with first, second, third, fourth, fifth and sixth grade children; all working together; all learning together.

The uniqueness of Scatterday has children, who are normally in self-contained classrooms, suddenly helping each other to learn. In a corner of any Scatterday classroom, a sixth grader may be helping a first grader, while in another part of the same room a second grader may be helping a fifth grader.

While some children work in academic areas such as astronomy in "Starama," other children work developing physical agility in "Tumbling". Still other children are involved in classes in cooking, macrame', art, and folk-dancing.

Children, teachers and Bohnett's principal, Sal Colletto are equally enthusiastic in their support of Scatterday. Colletto sums up the interaction and involved learning taking place by simply saying, "It's beautiful."

John McClelland wins top prize in county-wide science fair

A year's work culminated for some of the area's best science students during the recent award ceremonies of the Santa Clara Valley Science Fair.

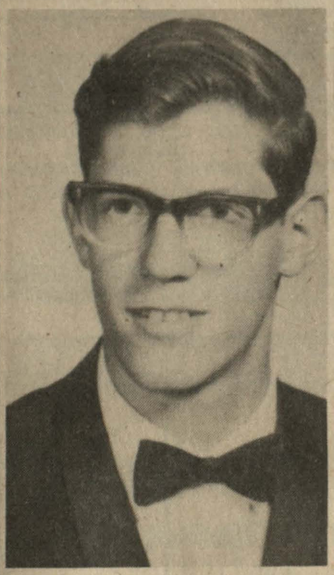
John McClelland, Campbell High School senior, took the top biological science prize at the 12th annual competition, for his project, "Schizophrenic Rhythm Phaseo" (beanplant).

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Glen McClelland, 872 N. Central Ave., John won the opportunity to enter the international competition this May in New Orleans, expenses paid.

In addition, he received a NASA award, accompanied by a hardcover NASA space publication and an Army Award. Campbell High School will receive a microscope in his name from Swift Instruments, Inc.

Other Campbell winners were Brian Gorman of Castlemont School, who received second place physics award for the sixth grade, and Stephen Brooks of Castlemont, who won an honorable mention in the sixth grade physics category. Brian's teacher is Carol Scatena and Stephen's is Nev Spadafore.

Branham High School winners were topped by Andreas Pawelzick whose first place in behavioral science, ninth grade, category also won a NASA Special Award and NASA space publication, and an Army Award.



JOHN McCLELLAND

Along with ribbons, pins and certificates, all winners received a science paperback book from Milligan News Co.

Open to students in grades six through 12 in public, parochial and private schools throughout the county, some 680 advance registrations were received.

More than 150 judges from science and professions served on judging teams to insure in-depth evaluation.

"Creativity of research was the main judging criteria, not sophistication" noted Dr. S. N. Stein, fair president.

The Valley Science Fair, a volunteer group of scientists, teachers, engineers and business leaders, encourages student achievement in science.

EVALUATION TEAM -- Dr. Patricia J. Bennett, counselor at West Valley College, recently served as part of a nine-member evaluation team, which visited West Hills College in Coalinga, Calif. The team was sent by the Accrediting Commission for Junior Colleges, Western Association of Schools and Colleges. The team's evaluations and recommendations will be the basis for the length of accreditation received by West Hills.

WHEEL–AWAY EXPANDING AGAIN---When the Wheel-Away Cyclery combined its two local stores into a large new building at Hamilton and Harrison avenues three years ago, they thought that would be all they'd ever need. But this week, Bill Paul announced a further expansion.

The home, shown above, located on the lot adjacent to Wheel-Away, was about to be moved as this picture was taken. The dotted lines in the photo show where a complete new addition will be added to the building. Construction is slated to start soon with completion scheduled for July.

Since moving to their new building in 1970, Bill Paul and Jerry Bernstein, together with a staff of 11 employees have sold nearly 8,000 new bikes and repair from 300 to 500 bikes each week.

All their new bicycles assembled and ready for sale, are displayed in a huge glass-enclosed display room 39 by 58 feet. The service and repair area in the rear is 41 by 41 feet and is equipped with every modern device for quick and accurate repairs and bicycle assembly.

and accurate repairs and bicycle assembly.

Wheel-Away has five major bicycle makes in their dealership; Schwinn, Raleigh, Stell, Gitane and Centurion. All have ten speeds, while the Schwinn and Raleighs offer speeds down to three and lower. Biggest demand today, they said, is for the ten speed.

HEAP BIG DEAL -- Faye Cupp, who plays a land speculator from the East, has a confrontation with Don Cupp, the hero of "The Pet of Squatters Gulch" in the new Gaslighter Theater production which will play every Friday and Saturday until July. Performances are at 8:30 p.m. The unique theater, located at 400 E. Campbell Ave., has been entertaining with original and adapted "mellerdramas" for several years.

DARTING AROUND

with Tom Carroll

We know of some avid dart players but an incident recently at the Black Watch in Los Gatos can only be described as DIE-HARD. A little over a week ago there was a power failure in Los Gatos. At the same time Tag Arthur and John Conroy were deeply engrossed in a game of darts. Now you can't very easily play darts in the dark. These ingenious gentlemen lit the board with candlelight and continued to play. Now, that is darting dedication.

AWARDS DINNER

It wasn't that hard to find. We all had a map. It was just that the street marker was hidden when you came off the expressway. The gas station where we stopped to get instructions asked what kind of a party it was as they had had a lot of people stopping to find the way...

Once there, a good time was had by all with a fine steak dinner and dancing to Duke Hampton's band. Of course, the high point of the evening was the awards and the South Bay took home their share. Scarlet LaRue I got official possession of the Falstaff Cup and received their individual trophies. The Club Gato in Los Gatos won the "B" division trophy for the El Camino League.

The trophies for the doubles and singles championships were also given out. If you remember, the South Bay did very well in the doubles championship. The father and son team of Ben and Jim Macredes took first with their across-the-street neighbors Eric Branthwaite and Roy Haslam taking second.

The hard luck broken dart award went to Norm Loop of Gaslighter II. Norm popped a 135-out during the early weeks of the season. This 135 held as the high out of the association all the way through the season. But in the play-offs Auggie Belasquez of the Casa Adobe popped a 157-out to take the high out trophy. Poor Norm, but he got a trophy anyway.

APRIL 16

Besides being the day after taxes this is also the day for the Spring season Doubles Championship. The battlefield will again be Melody Hall in San Lorenzo.

For those who have a little money left or want a chance to earn some back, the Oregon State Tournament is the same day. They play a little different up there. Their minimum throwing distance is eight foot, six inches. They have a no bust rule and the black or center bullseye is not considered a double. Good luck. Mugs!

CAMP FIRE GIRLS

Last Sunday members of District Nine Camp Fire Girls Discovery Clubs met at Vasona County Park for a Father-Daughter Bar-B-Que. Over 50 girls and their fathers participated in an afternoon of outdoor fun.

The girls built the fires and cooked for their dads. Each groups of girls planned a game such as three-legged race, sack race, potato race and a balloon fight. Everyone left joyful, but quite damp.

Pacific Telephone job plan boosts minorities, women

A program by Pacific Telephone to hire and promote minorities and women into jobs in all phases and at all levels of the company is now in full swing in Campbell and throughout the state.

Jim Bower, local PT&T manager, said "It will provide equal opportunity, in the truest sense of the word, to all who qualify. That is why we call it the company's 'Affirmative Action' program. It is a signed document with the federal government, and the company has pledged its full resources to make it work."

It means that in the future there will be more women in traditionally men's jobs, and vice-versa; there will be more employment of Blacks, Spanish-surnamed and other minorities; and there will be more upward movement of both women and minorities in jobs of increasing importance in the management of the company, even to the highest levels.

"This is not just a numbers game. It is a plan to assure that all employees have an equitable opportunity to develop to his or her full potential," he said.

Bower said Pacific Telephone is no stranger to equal opportunity, having made its intentions clear as early as 1962 when it became one of the first signers of the "Plans for Progress," a pact among the nation's employers to provide equal opportunity and advancement.

"In ensuing years, the company's hiring of minority race employees has risen steadily," Bower said. He noted that on a companywide basis:

–Of new employees hired in the past four years, one out of four has been either Black, Spanish-surnamed, American Indian or Oriental.

–Pacific Telephone employs more than 16,500 minority people–about 17 percent of all employees. This compares with a minority population in California of 22 percent.

–One-half of all jobs and about one-third of all management positions are held by women in Pacific.

–Progress is being made where weaknesses exists; there there now are more than 1,350 minority managers in Pacific Telephone, almost double the number three years ago.

–Pacific aggressively seeks minority employees in recruitment programs; conducts remedial training programs for new hires; and runs work-study programs in high schools.

"But this is not enough," Bower said. "Our sights are aimed at changing the male/female and racial distribution of the entire company, from top to bottom, both in Campbell and throughout the state."

How is Pacific Telephone going to reach its avowed aim of equal opportunity without regard to race or sex? Bower said PT&T has declared two goals.

"First, we plan to have a work force whose racial 'makeup' is in direct relationship to the area it serves.

"And second, we want to have a direct ratio between the men and women in management and the groups they supervise, which we call 'employee Parity.' "

BEDNOBS AND BROOMSTICKS

Walt Disney Studios has once again proved that it is still possible to enjoy a movie without being subjected to violence, nudity and all the other dirty wash Hollywood has been hanging out in the past few years.

"Bednobs and Broomsticks", starring Angela Lansbury and David Tomlinson fulfills the Disney formula quite well and even manages to sneak in a few new special effects, garnering for the movie a total of five Academy Award nominations.

This time around, the heroine is an apprentice witch (Angela Lansbury) by the name of Miss Price. It seems Miss Price has a very difficult time working her spells. When she tries to turn someone into a frog, they inevitably turn into a fluffy white rabbit. (Much to the delight of the children in the audience.) Actually, the mix-up isn't all her fault because she is taking a correspondence course in witchcraft from a Professor Emelius Browne and he rewrote some of the old spells, making them turn out differently than they were originally intended.

Being a very nice witch, Miss Price takes in three orphans from London who are sent to the country because the Nazis are bombing the city. They immediately find out that Miss Price is a witch because they see her flying around late one night, trying out her new broom.

The first situation which is wrong and has to be set right comes about when Miss Price learns she isn't going to get her last correspondence lesson so she and the kids set out for London on a brass bed, trying to find Professor Browne.

While the plot makes practically no sense whatsoever, you really don't mind because everything going on is so much fun. Disney Studios again combines its tried and true technique of combining animation and live action and comes up with a very funny soccer game played by a weird assortment of fat hippos, a laughing hyena, an ostrich (who is basically a chicken) and a red-maned king lion who likes to win so much he even resorts to cheating.

By the end of the show, Miss Price, the children and Mr. Browne (he wasn't really a professor after all) manage to mobilize an army of old suits of armor and chase a bunch of Nazis who are trying to invade England back into the ocean.

If you decide to take the kids to see this one, don't try to make any sense out of it, just sit back and have a good time!

The film is currently showing at Century Almaden Theater in San Jose.

Firm offers emergency home repair

Federated Homeowners of America (FHa), emergency home repair and maintenance service founded by a San Jose housewife last year, is successful proof that heeding consumer "gripes" is sound business practice.

FHa was founded by Sandra Kahn with the help of other San Jose homeowners to provide a quick and reliable means of locating a repairman for various home maintenance needs.

This week, Mrs. Kahn announced that FHa has expanded its service program from 92 to 135 services. Some of the new services will include rototilling, landscaping, swimming pool installation and repair, and other homeowner needs common during the spring and summer season.

FHa was organized in 1971 on the premise that Santa Clara County families had no quick, reliable means of locating licensed repairmen or getting answers to home improvement questions.

FHa now provides hundreds of Santa Clara County families with a wide range of homeowner services.

By calling FHa, the member can have a plumber, T.V. repairman or any serviceman to his home promptly. Families pay a membership fee to FHa on a yearly basis. The membership fee entitles them to 24-hour a day home emergency repair service (first half hour free), recommended lists of licensed contractors for home maintenance needs, and consumer information.

Equipment, new laws help battle phoney phone calls

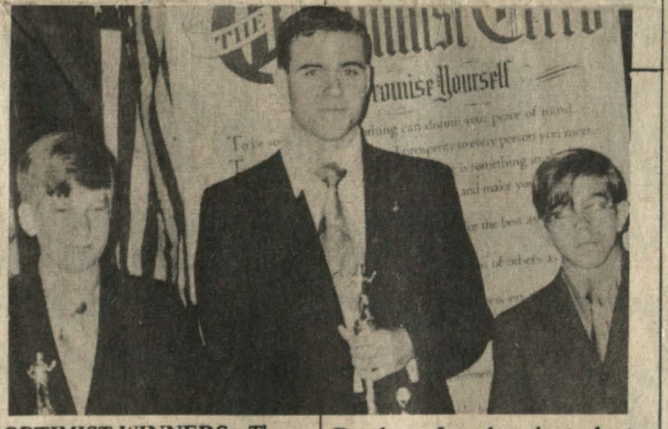
Sophisticated electronic equipment and newly-enacted laws are helping Pacific Telephone win its war against fraudulent telephone callers, according to local telephone manager Jim Bower.

"Pacific Telephone has recently implemented additional control procedures to prevent fraudulent calling. Although in effect only a short time, it is already seeing many positive results, here and throughout the state," he said.

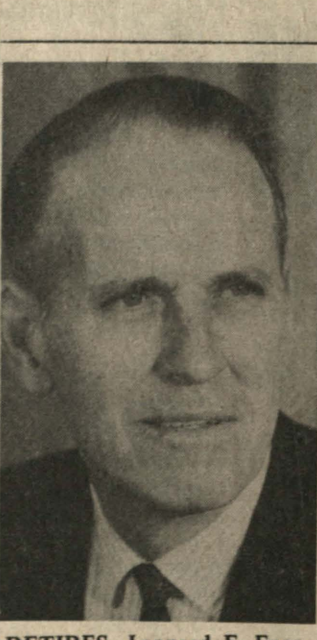
For example, Pacific is using computers to verify the authenticity of credit card numbers. During just the first six weeks of using the computers, the company prevented the completion of some 37,000 calls in cases where the credit card numbers were fraudulent. During 1971, the company experienced $6 million of phoney credit card calls.

The Bell System's toll fraud control program emphasizes strong preventive measures, early detection, prompt investigation and vigorous prosecution when warranted.

Pacific Telephone is being aided in its fight by a new state law which became effective in California in early March. The new law makes it a misdemeanor to publish or otherwise convey information on credit card codes with the intent to avoid legal payment to the telephone company.



OPTIMIST WINNERS---Three winners in the Campbell Optimist Oratorical Contest competed in finals at Argonaut School in Saratoga recently. Left to right are Mark Deady, a Lynnbrook student; Robert Naegele, St. Martin's and Ryan Baker, Castro Jr. High. Contest judges were Dr. Steve Musich, Tom State and Allen J. Repashy. Timekeeper was Steve Von Till.



RETIRES---Leonard E. Engeman, 65, County Assistant Director of Finance-Treasurer-Tax Collector, is winding up his third career. He has been with the county for eight years and in the 1930's was manager of a paper company. For 21 years, 1940-61, he was an officer in the U. S. Army. He will leave the county service on May 5. The assistant director's position pays $1489-$1810 monthly. Engeman, who retired from the Army in 1961 as a full colonel, received recognition as leading the first infantry across the only bridge over the Rhine that had been left standing during the German retreat.

New Books BOOKS at Campbell Library

FICTION:

IS THAT YOUR BEST OFFER, by Arnold M. Auerbach.

This is a witty novel about New York's chic publishing world, the people in it, and the impact of a naive college girl upon them. Claire Franklin, an attractive literary agent, suddenly finds herself both employer and substitute mother of Amy Larkin, an intense Bennington freshman who is spending her work period in New York. The clash between these two contrasting females, their tangled love lives and divergent attitudes toward everything from sex to breakfast foods form the springboard of an entertaining, fastmoving tale.

SWORDS AND SECPERS; COINS AND CUPS, by Alexander Fedoroff.

In this panoramic, lusty novel, Alexander Fedoroff takes the reader deep into the two worlds of the ultra rich, the world of corporations, foundations and government; and the world of the jet-setters with their frantic pursuit of pleasure and headlines. Barranger Land, a brilliant but embittered young man, suddenly becomes fabulously wealthy, but wealth is not enough for him. His ambition drags him through a nightmare.

THE HEALER, by Daniel P. Mannix.

In a novel that memorably evokes a rural American countryside and its wildlife, Daniel Mannix leads us into the magical existence of a boy groping toward maturity in a primitive but exciting environment. The story unfolds among the woods and farms of the Pennsylvania Dutch country, where the boy Billy comes from an unhappy city home to live with his great-uncle Abe Zook a "braucher" or hex doctor skilled in herbal healing and widely feared as a pow-wow man and muster of magic. Seldom does a novel so naturally combine powerful suspense, subtle humor, little known nature lore and a perception that reaches deep into the ways of men, boys and animals.

NON-FICTION:

AS WE LIVE AND BREATHE (301.31)

This volume, the latest and one of the most comprehensive efforts of the National Geographic Society to point up the growing awareness of our deteriorating environment first describes how man altered the New World. It then stresses man's adverse effect on his land, his labor for food, his demands for energy, his increasing desire for products of industry. It also chronicles the attempts of a growing number of Americans to regain a more liveable environment, the search for non-polluting forms of transportation, programs to revive cities and methods to convert garbage into valuable resources through recycling.

UP FROM NEVER, by Joe Sorrentino. (340.0924)

Right from the beginning Joe Sorrentino was on a one-way street to hell. His Brooklyn home was a scene of three pool halls in four blocks, rampaging street gangs and Mafia killers. By the time he was 20, he had served time in a reformatory, jail, brig, and a padded cell for incorrigibles. He had flunked out of school four times, gone through 30 jobs, and had been booted out of the Marines in a pink suit. He noticed a sign one day inviting passers-by to register for night school. He enrolled, fell in love with learning and eventually became valedictorian of his Harvard Law School graduation in 1967.

Pat and John settle in Campbell

MR. and MRS. JOHN RAYMOND BURKE

John Raymond Burke and Patricia Hebard exchanged rings and promises in an afternoon ceremony performed recently in St. Lucy's Church by Reverend Henri Boisvert, assistant pastor.

Patricia, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Don Hebard, 205 Calado Ave., and John, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Perusina, Saratoga, are establishing a Campbell home.

The petite bride chose a gown of white organza over satin, styled with a shirred bodice and long bell-shaped sleeves.

Her elbow-length veil was secured with a flowered cap and she carried a cascading bouquet of roses, carnations and stephanotis, centered with an orchid corsage.

Mrs. Michael (Peggy) S. Muscato, sister of the bride, was matron of honor for her sister.

Bridesmaids were Kathleen and Colleen Burke, sisters of the bridegroom, and Mary Nelson of Campbell. All four bridal attendants were gowned in powder blue and carried baskets of spring flowers.

Dick Burke stood with his brother as best man.

Ushering duties were performed by Tom Burke, also a brother of the bridegroom, Randy Finley of Campbell and Gary Weathers of Saratoga.

Following the ceremony a champagne reception for 150 guests was held at the Bridal Center in Campbell.

The couple cut a four-tiered wedding cake before leaving for a short honeymoon in the Santa Cruz area.

The new Mrs. Burke is a graduate of Prospect High School and attended the University of California, Santa Barbara. She is employed by Opportunities Industrialization Center of Santa Clara County.

Her husband is an alumnus of Westmont High School and served in the U. S. Marine Corps. He is attending West Valley College and is employed at United Technology in Coyote.

Couple celebrates 50 wedded years

MR. and MRS. TONY RAFANTI

Nearly 120 guests offered congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Tony Raffanti at a recent dinner dance in honor of their 50th wedding anniversary.

The celebration, held in the American Legion Hall, was planned by Mr. and Mrs. Bob Raffantis, the couple's son and daughter-in-law.

The Raffanti's have spent all their married life in Campbell, where Tony is a well-known businessman.

A long gold dress embellished with lacy sleeves, beaded designs and an orchid corsage was worn by the honoree.

Special guest at the celebration was Lois Sexton, niece of the Raffantis', who flew in from Florida to surprise them.

Other guests include Mr. and Mrs. Peter Spragia of Campbell, sister and brother of the honorees who also served as best man and maid of honor at their wedding 50 years ago.

The honored couple have three grandchildren, Bob, Brad and Tami.

YOUNG CELLIST

Karen Hastings, local cellist, is among the high school musicians who played in the recent yearly concert of California's all-state orchestra.

The talented young people performed for nearly 1000 music teachers during a conference of the California Music Educators Association (CMEA).

Campbell High wins annual Lions baseball tournament

Campbell High defeated Bellarmine 2-1 last Wednesday in the annual Lions Club Baseball Tournament Championship.

The Bucs are considered prime contenders for the West Valley League championship, especially after their defeat of Los Gatos 10-2 in the Tuesday semi-finals in the Lions' tourney.

The loss of Los Gatos to Campbell was the Wildcats first of the season after a string of nine straight wins. Los Gatos beat Sunnyvale 6-0 in the runner-up game for the Lions championship.

Coach Gordy Huntze of the Bucs emphasized that it was a team effort throughout the tournament that was the main factor for the wins for Campbell.

He indicated that the 2-1 victory over Bellarmine may have been "lucky" but, at the same time, the Bucs have learned to take advantage of mistakes to win six games in a row.

Kelly Davis was the starter for the Bucs against Bellarmine and had an easy time for three innings. The Bucs scored in one run in the first and one in the second.

Davis began to tire in the fourth but the Bells left seven men stranded over the fourth, fifth and sixth innings.

Bellarmine threatened for the last time in the sixth with men on first and second and one out. Steve Garrido then took over the mound duties and retired the next five batters in succession.

TRACKSTERS IN CRUCIAL

Still undefeated in Camino Norte Conference competition, the West Valley College tracksters will get back down to league activity this week after the Easter vacation break and face a tough test as they travel to rival Santa Rosa Friday at 3:30 p.m.

Last weekend West Valley ran into a powerhouse at San Jose City College and dropped the decision 80-56.

But those Vikes who did show up turned in some fine individual efforts. WVC won six first places and the 440 relay along with sweeping the 880, going one-two in the 220, and one-three in the triple jump and mile.

Mike Flack was tops on the day with a first place in the 440, clocking a sub-50 time. Flack ran to a 49.8 for the win.

Mike Schaecher won the mile at 4:16.9 followed by Mike Haniger third at 4:20.7 while Ervin Crumpler and Brooks Gregory went one-two in the 220 with times of 22.5 and 22.6, respectively.

A surprise came in the 880 as the Vikings swept the top three spots. Brad Syth was first at 1:57.2 and was followed by the tape by Randy Carlson, 1:57.3, and Russ Goodman, 1:59.0.

Randy Bourdeau was the triple jump winner with a 44' 9" leap while an injured John Murphy had to settle for third. Mike Bassoni won the discus event with a 145'2" heave and Kevin Sanford romped to a second in the three mile at 15:23. Murphy later added a second in the long jump and a third in the high jump.

The only other win of the day for WVC was in the 440 relay as Crumpler, Mike Jones, Daryl Lowry, and Gregory sprinted to a 43.8.

BATMEN MEET POWERS

After a rather disappointing showing in the Viking-Jagaur Easter baseball tournament, the West Valley College diamondmen will return to Camino Norte Conference action Tuesday.

The Vikes will have it tough their first week back to the field as they prepare to host Canada, visit Santa Rosa, and entertain Marin.

Both weekday games are slated for 3 p.m. and the Saturday game will be played at 1 p.m. Canada and Marin will meet WVC at Central Park in Santa Clara.

NETMEN DON'T RELAX

The Viking racquetmen meet Menlo in a non-league battle Thursday. Both matches are on the WVC home courts.

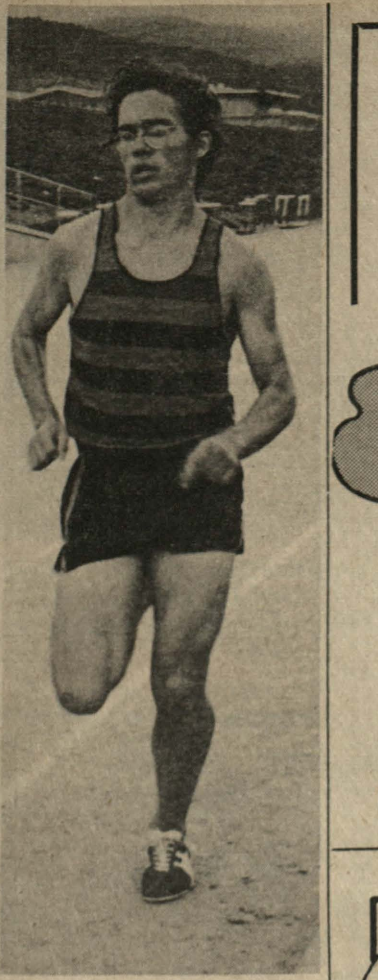
West Valley will get back to league activity Friday when they hit the road for a bout with Contra Costa, action starting at 2:30 p.m.

Last weekend the orange and blue competed in the Chabot Invitational tourney in Hayward and walked off with a team fourth place and four consolation titles.

Marin won the team event with 63 points as WVC ended in fourth with 22.

Jim Martin won the consolation championship in the number one singles class and Glen Davis and Charles Sharples did the same in the number four and five positions, respectively. Sharples teamed with Steve Borkenhagen for a consolation crown at number three doubles.

Borkenhagen was responsible for most of the team points in the tourney, notching seven of WVC's 22 point total.



ALL ALONE---Racing ahead of the pack is Jon Ahmberg of West Valley as he turned in a winning effort against Contra Costa two weeks ago. Ahmberg, a graduate of Westmont High, and his Viking teammates will be out to repeat that victory performance Friday when they travel for a 3:30 p.m. meet with Santa Rosa. Photo by Dick Sparrer

WVC offers money class

West Valley College is offering a class on "Money—How to Get It—How to Keep It" April 19 – May 17.

The five Wednesday evening sessions (7–10 p.m.) will compare and analyze the growth potentials and tax advantages of stocks, bonds, mutual funds, real estate, life insurance, commodities and savings accounts.

Class discussion will also include a breakdown of market growth areas and an overview of estate planning. Four guest lecturers: a realtor, attorney, banker and life insurance representative, will discuss their respective fields.

H. Bruce Furchtenicht, account executive with a local securities investment firm, will instruct the course. He served as head of business development, commercial lending officer and senior credit analyst for United California Bank before entering the investment field.

Campbell District Science Fair yielded 250 entries

Nearly 250 science projects were entered by fourth to eighth grade students in the 15th annual Campbell Union School District Science Fair.

The students entered nearly 250 projects in the fair.

Among the 93 award winning projects were "Polyphemus Math" by Greg Kraus, Forest Hill fourth grader; "Birth of a Star" by Timothy Paulsen, Castlemont fifth grader, and "Dishwasher" by Tony Hewes, Campbell 7th grader.

The fair entries were judged twice, on Friday evening, March 17 and Saturday morning, March 18. At 9:45 a.m. Saturday, the fair was opened to the public.

An awards ceremony was held later that day.

The fair, which stimulated student interest in science, has also created a valuable resource for teachers.

Students from all of the Campbell District's 19 schools and representatives from St. Lucy's entered the fair.

Pacific Telephone sets goals for hiring Spanish-surnamed

Pacific Telephone has announced one of its "highest priorities is to sharply increase" its number of Spanish-surnamed employees as part of intensified efforts to improve job opportunities for all minorities and women.

Jerome W. Hull, company president, told shareholders at the firm's annual meeting in San Francisco that PT&T expects by 1980 or sooner to be at the Spanish-surnamed California percentage, estimated to be 17 to 20 percent by that time. The interim goal is to reach a 12-14 percentage mark by the end of 1975, Hull said.

The 1970 census indicates about 16 percent of California's population currently is Spanish- surnamed. Hull reported that slightly more than six percent of Pacific Telephone's present employee force is Spanish-surnamed.

To meet its objectives, Hull said 20 to 25 per cent of all new hires each year are planned to be Spanish- surnamed individuals until the desired percentage is achieved

"Between 25 to 30 percent of our college hires in the next several years are planned to be Spanish-surnamed people," Hull said.

"We also plan to initiate a program to hire and train in the next five years at least 1,000 persons who speak only Spanish--about 200 per year--to learn English and jobs at the same time."

With respect to women, Hull said, the firm's objective is to reach a proportionate distribution of men and women in management.

For minorities, the goal is to achieve a racial composition at all levels of employment which is in direct relationship to the communities served by Pacific Telephone in California, Hull pointed out.

He said the company's efforts to improve opportunities for women and minorities "have not gone unnoticed."

"Just a few weeks ago," he said, "the California Fair Employment Practices Commission staff recommended that, because of a positive approach toward equal employment opportunity for minority and female employees, detailed investigations of Pacific Telephone should be dropped, although our performance will be monitored by the commission."

DRUGS SCENE OR SYMPTOM?

The popular thing to do these days is to have a drug abuse program. The most common garden variety of program names the drugs, their effects, and perhaps where to go for help. Seldom do these programs deal with preventions for drug abuse And many of us react as if the current crop of teenagers invented the problem.

Is drug abuse a problem in itself or is it a symptom of many other problems? Aren't escapes into alcoholism and mental illness, cries for help, a vain hope to escape the pressures of today's world? Can we separate them?

The only truly successful programs to rehabilitate drug users as with alcoholics, and nervous and mental patients. deal not with the apparent surface problem, but the person's feelings of desperation, inability to cope with life, and feeling of rejection and lack of love.

Odyssey House in New York City, has a 90% success rate on patients who remain active in their very supportive program for one full year. Each person helps himself and others to gain insight, to re-establish healthy patterns of living, and most of all, to gain self-esteem.

We can do a little prevention right in our own backyards. Many times, it's not what we say to someone we love, but how we say it. The proverbial "biting tongue" is, too often, a reality. We can work to really listen to each other, to give firm kind discipline to our children, to lend a listening ear to a friend who needs it, and a sincere compliment for effort when we see it.

We can offer more tolerance and help, also, to those who have needed treatment and have had the courage to seek it.

It's all too easy to sit and discuss drug abuse or any other social problem. Dealing with its prevention takes action and insight. This action is best spent when we help each other feel useful and needed. Maybe we can't work miracles, and then again, maybe we can.

A TOUCH OF THE LIGHT

A University of California–Santa Cruz geology class discovered three heretofore unknown minor earthquake faults on the campus. As discoverers, they had the privilege of naming them. So from now on the three will be officially labeled on U.S. Geological Survey maps as Your Fault, My Fault and McHenry's Fault–the last named for the university's chancellor, Dean McHenry.

High schoolers hike 'n bike along coast and mountains

Hundreds of young people for the first time have an opportunity to explore deep into the wilderness as a result of the innovative West Valley Hiking Club Inc.

Organized four years ago mainly through the efforts of its present director, Leon Berthiaume, it has grown from a two chapter club to an organization with outreach to 12 area schools.

The club's schedule of over 70 trips per year, includes a backpack trip through the Grand Canyon, winter mountaineering, beach exploration in Baja California and bicycle touring in addition to twice schedule of backpacking, cycling, skiing and climbing experiences.

The club plans 40 outings before the end of the year. These trips include weekend backpack, climbing and bicycling trips, a 400-mile cycle trek from Lake Tahoe to Death Valley and a five-day winter mountaineering seminar on Mt. Shasta over spring vacation.

This summer the group will offer 20 extended trips including 16 six-day jaunts in the High Sierras, four different 18-day trips to Washington and Canada.

These include two backpack trips in the Coast Range, an island-hopping bicycle tour through Washington's San Juan Isles and Canada's Gulf Islands and a high intensity North Cascade mountaineering trip known as the Ptyrmigan Traverse.

The basic structure of the club is built around a unique combination of professional guides, a small group of dedicated volunteer adults and a larger group of enthusiastic high school students.

Co-ordinators at each school chapter are responsible for organizing their local meetings and distributing information on their outings.

Each school has one outing per month in addition to special inter-chapter activities during each vacation.

The hiking club's administration is handled by a core group responsible for organizing meal preparation, insurance, publications, publicity and maintenance of the two club-owned buses. The entire financial burden for the club rests upon the fees collected from the young participants, which range from $10 for weekends to $99 for 18-day trips.

Those interested in organizing chapters or participating may phone Leon Berthiaume, club director, at 374-2390 or 374-3311.

Hawaiian background makes state quite "different"

The People Who Live There (Part II)

What is an Hawaiian? How is the lifestyle of our fiftieth state different from our own on the U.S. mainland? According to the California State Automobile Association Travel Department, more and more people are heading to Hawaii these days, not only to enjoy the spectacular scenery, but also to become better acquainted with the Hawaiians themselves and their customs, culture and history.

Hawaii's people today are Americans who can trace their lineage back to virtually every country in the world. They represent a blend, a product of a multi-racial integration that began long ago.

The original natives, who probably migrated to the islands from Tahiti in the eighth century, numbered approximately 300,000 at the time Hawaii was first discovered by the English explorer Captain James Cook in 1778. Cook found a strong healthy Polynesian people living freely off the land and ruled by a hereditary island monarchy.

Their religion involved a complex set of taboos, called KAPU, in which certain objects events, people and places were held sacred to the gods. Certain high priests dictated and enforced these KAPU and severely punished violators.

But the main problem with the KAPU system was that it highly discriminated against women. Eventually the female Hawaiians grew irritated at such injustices as not being able to eat with men, or for that matter, not being able to eat certain foods at all.

Accordingly, the island women set up liberation goals for themselves. The result was that in 1819 not only were the women freed from all former subservience, but all the Hawaiians joined in and broke all the KAPUS. This event is indeed strange in Hawaiian history–and in world history –for it signifies a people overthrowing a religious system which had been theirs for centuries, and not replacing it.

The way was paved, however, for the many and different foreign influences that would thereafter affect Hawaii. After Cook's discovery, Honolulu became a leading Pacific port, especially for waling ships.

And in 1820, New England missionaries moved into the islands and had a profound influence on the religious beliefs of the islanders. Along with successfully Christianizing most of the kingdom, the missionaries Americanized other institutions as well–educational, political and economic.

By the middle of the nineteenth century the Hawaiian population had dwindled to 150,000–less than half what it had been at the time of Cook's discovery. Because of the growing need for more workers in the sugar fields, large numbers of Japanese and Chinese came to Hawaii. These foreign emigrations were most beneficial in strengthening the weakened bloodline of the declining island population.

The result has been the formation of a healthy multi-racial society that continues even now with a high degree of harmony and assimilation.

Hawaiians of today have a mixed ancestry which includes Anglo-Saxon, Japanese, Chinese, Hawaiian, Spanish, German, Korean, Puerto Rican, Filipino, Portuguese, Indian, Samoan, Negro and many others. Such a diverse cultural background provides a unique and cosmopolitan flavor to Hawaii.

As would be expected, many different religions are also represented in Hawaii today. The arrival of the Congregationalist missionaries in 1820 was followed by the Catholics, Episcopalians, Mormons and many others.

Similarly, the Japanese and Chinese established temples and shrines throughout the islands. Freedom of worship was guaranteed by the Constitution of 1840, and the pervasive attitude of religious tolerance has subsequently fostered the establishment of an impressively large number of different sects and faiths.

Perhaps more than anything else, this traditional spirit of broad-minded openness stands out as an Hawaiian trademark. In addition, the California State Automobile Association hastens to add that Hawaiians have always been renowned for their friendliness and hospitality to outside visitors.

A trip to the Hawaiian islands is more than a discovery of a rich and beautiful land. It is also a rich and rewarding discovery of the Hawaiian people.

New Books BOOKS at Campbell Library

NATURAL COOKING, by Barbara Farr. (641.5)
A steaming bowl of soup, a ripe tomato still warm from the heat of the sun, and a loaf of crusty wholegrain bread, are all natural foods. On the other hand, a T.V. dinner is unnatural in its concept, unsatisfying in its flavor and unbeautiful to behold. There are some excellent shopping tips, lessons in nutrition and a glossary of natural cooking terms. There are some really delicious recipes.

THE TIFFANY TOUCH, by Joseph Purtell. (739.2709)
This beautifully illustrated and entertaining book is a compendium of glamorous gossip and social history, as well as an inside look at the development of American taste. This is the story of Tiffany's, long famous for its elegance and sophistication. This illustrious jewelry house has a fascinating history and an equally fascinating clientele. There is the story of a little boy who wanted to pay installments on a $176,000 ring for his mother and many other tales. It is a fabulous story.

ADAM BY ADAM, by Adam Clayton Powell. (973.9209)
Flamboyant Adam Clayton Powell, as chairman of the powerful House, Education and Labor committee, probably wielded more political clout than any other black man in this nation's history. In this disarmingly candid autobiography he tells of his rise in politics and reveals many equally colorful details of his personal life. A superb raconteur, Powell sprinkles his narrative with vignettes.

Proceeds from the affair will be given to the philanthropic projects of the two groups.

The social event is open to the public and reservations may be made by Friday, April 7, with Mrs. Miller, 2807 Lexford Ave., San Jose.

SORORITY LUNCHEON --- Mrs. Russell Raymond, president of Kappa Xi, Mrs. Otis King and Mrs. Joseph Diodati, models, and Mrs. Wayne Miller, president of Lambda Kappa, stand beside decorations for their joint luncheon on Saturday, April 8 at noon in the Campbell Grange Hall, 109 N. First St. The fashion show-luncheon, presented by the two chapters of the Epsilon Sigma Alpha International Sorority features spring attire from Sears of Eastridge, with lunch by the Ladies Luncheon League.
